Broadsword Editorial

For the British people this year 2010 will be a General Election year and they will see the usual democratic circus in action, as the Establishment political parties campaign to secure their place in the nation's political power structure. The Labour and Conservative parties will spend millions of pounds on their election campaigns, driving their respective parties even deeper into debt. The Liberal Democrats and minority parties will scramble for token representation in the new government dominated by the rotating dictatorship of the two main parties.

The New Labour Government of Prime Minister Gordon Brown will fight with every means at its disposal to hang on to power. Under New Labour the British people have seen the face of their country changed as never before; massive increases in both national and local government bureaucracy; massive increases in new laws and new offences being introduced onto the statute books to give the State greater control over the population; the creation of a virtual Police state, with new powers and a greater range of technology to monitor the population, all part of the Stalinist programme of the ideologically driven New Labour Project. Worst of all has been the massive increase in non-European immigration into the UK under a New Labour administration, possibly part of a deliberate policy of 'social engineering' set in motion by Labour party 'apparatchiks' as part of their undeclared Marxist agenda. Those who are politically driven to turn Britain into a multi-racial society believe they can achieve their ideological goal by flooding Britain with non-whites, granting them citizenship, and creating what they hope is a point of no-return, where nothing can halt the creation of a mixed-race population and racially diverse state. If the Conservatives form a new government, they will not reverse the New Labour tide of legislation and social control, and will only tinker around the edges of the race and immigration problems.

The establishment political parties are not the solution to Britain's problems. The main political parties have shown themselves to be corrupt, filled with Members of Parliament who are self-interested and unwilling and unable to take the radical measures needed to solve Britain's social, economic and racial problems. The so-called democratic system has failed, and tries to defend itself with an increasingly politicised police force, greater social control through ever repressive laws and new levels of State surveillance.

THE NEW LABOUR POLICE STATE Dictatorship By Stealth Takes Another Step Closer. Police Have £9 Million Funding For Special Surveillance Unit.

In the last couple of issues of Broadsword magazine the 'Werewolf Column' has reported on the Labour Government's so-called "Respect Programme", which has pumped millions of pounds of tax-payers' money into funding a special strategy designed to lead young people "away from extremism" and into supporting cultural diversity and the joys of a multi-cultural Britain.

In order to be seen to be 'fair' and 'even-handed', the "Respect" initiatives target Asian youngsters who are being drawn towards Islamic extremism and at the same time works to prevent young White British citizens being drawn into White 'racism'.

Of course this means that the Police are given extra funding, new powers and plenty of scope to harass, intimidate and disrupt White Racial Nationalism. Which is exactly what the leftists and liberals want to see.

In keeping with their new instructions from the Home Office, every police force in the country is doing its best to meet the new directives on 'protecting diversity' and 'protecting and promoting community cohesion'. This means using whatever means necessary to disrupt the activities of what the media calls the "Far-Right".

Over the last six months this has meant police 'fishing-raids' on the homes of White Nationalists, taking mobile phones for 'examination', intercepting mail, monitoring telephone calls, seizing the computers of those Blood & Honour activists involved in producing Blood & Honour information publications, (no charges of course - just extreme inconvenience and disruption). All the classic tactics of the Secret Police. Of course the so-called Security Services are seeking to recruit spies and paid informers in every fringe political sphere; Left, Right, Anarchist, Green, Muslim, Climate Change, Tree-Huggers etc. etc.

It is rumoured that the use of paid informers in the Asian communities is not working too well. It is alleged that certain individuals are taking the Government's money as informers but are actually settling old scores with rival clans, families and business rivals by giving false information to the police, Special Branch etc. and seeing their rivals homes and businesses raided by anti-terrorist squads.

Meanwhile the police demonstrate to asian 'Community leaders' that they are even handed by raiding White Nationalists.

(Tit for Tat)

Elsewhere the police are very busy targeting anyone and everyone with a camera on the streets of London, over-using their new, sweeping powers under Section 44 of the New Labour anti-Terror Laws.

The 'Stasi-State' is here!

This is how one national newspaper reported on the new politicised police 'intelligence' gathering units.

The old East German Stasi are their role models.

New Labour ideology guides the thinking behind training such police units.

The Police are now obsessed with the technology of surveillance and recording as much data as possible about anyone who fits the profile of a 'subversive'.

MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS

Broadsword looks at the stories and incidents drawn from across the media in Britain that best illustrate the depths into which our country has sunk as the Government, the media, the police and the Race Relations industry conspire against the indigenous British people to impose a multi-cultural society on Britain. How British culture, values and traditions are undermined by political correctness, minority interests and racial equality. Stories which reveal the harsh reality of life in a multi-cultural Britain and the betrayal of the White British majority population.

LEICESTER - A NATIONAL DISGRACE

In the Next Five Years the White British Will Officially Become an Ethnic Minority in This British City The Liberal and Leftist Media Think That This is a Cause For Celebration - Broadsword Regards This as a Catastrophe.

By the year 2015 at the latest, Leicester will become the first city in England where the White British are the ethnic minority group. Instead of regarding this a national disaster and loudly condemning this situation, some sections of the national newsmedia and mainstream political parties are regarding this as a cause for celebration.

In 2007 Leicester had reached the position where only 44% of children in its schools were ethnically white.

Broadsword considers this situation to be a disaster for Britain as a whole and a warning for the entire nation as to what the future might bring if current immigration and population trends are allowed to continue.

"Leicester is a Gujarati city"

Riaz Rafat - Muslim Interfaith worker.

Quoted in the 'Guardian' - January 2nd 2010.

Press reports have indicated that Leicester is unique as a British city because, whereas in other British towns and cities there are districts where White people are the ethnic minority, but in Leicester it is in the city as a whole. The level of racial tolerance in Leicester is compared with that of London, unlike other British cities, but the tolerance is seen as unique in Leicester because of the dominance of the Asian population. Leicester is the biggest Gujarati city outside of Durban in South Africa and outside the Indian sub-continent.

The local newspaper the 'Leicester Mercury' has a deliberate editorial policy of running stories that "promote good community relations" and does not run anti-immigration or anti-asylum-seeker stories. At every opportunity the 'Leicester Mercury' has sung the praises of its immigrant communities and has always been quick to denounce White Nationalism. In the 1970's and early 1980's the 'Leicester Mercury' presented a number of openly hostile reports on British Movement activity in the city, and these days is very critical of the BNP. It is no surprise that many British Nationalists regard Leicester as a lost cause, but we should not give up on the White British minority struggling to survive and maintain their culture and national identity.

DEWSBURY

Racially Motivated Attacks On White Citizens By Asians Increase But Police Deny There Are No 'No-Go' Areas For Whites and Deny Race Hate is the Issue.

Dewsbury in West Yorkshire has gained a reputation for two things in recent years;

- 1) Many of the so-called 'July Bombers' either came from Dewsbury or attended Mosques there.
- 2) The 'Sharon Matthews' case highlighted poverty and criminality in the town.

In the last issue of Broadsword the MRM columns reported on violent attacks on White people in the Dewsbury area by gangs of Asian youths. Since then, in November 2009, two Asian men were charged with racially aggravated assaults on a White man Robert Dyson, in the Savile Town area of Dewsbury.

In another incident a 14 year old White teenager, Joseph Haigh was attacked, beaten and stabbed, by a gang of up to 15 Asian youths shouting racial abuse at their White victim, calling him "White Trash" and other racial insults. Yet the Police refused to class the attack as 'racially motivated'. Dewsbury Police refuse to accept that the Savile Town area is a 'No-Go' area for White people after dark.

MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS

More Multi-racial Madness Stories Taken From Both the Local and National Press Which Betray the Level of Insanity Behind the Pursuit of Political Correctness and the Failed Concepts of Multi-Culturalism, Racial Integration and a Multi-Racial Society

CONSIDER THIS.....

"If we don't get a grip on climate change we are going to see the world's largest diaspora, when a huge area of sub-Saharan Africa will be forced into absolute water shortage. At that point 300 Million people could walk off the land towards Europe."

BROADSWORD SAYS..... This is the stuff of nightmares ! If 300 million Africans decide to walk into Europe and are unopposed, then the African races will become Europe's future and the White European culture and civilisation will disappear and the White Aryan race will rapidly become extinct.

A MULTI-CULTURAL BRITAIN WAS A DELIBERATE STRATEGY OF NEW LABOUR THINKING

A document recently released under the Freedom of Information Act has revealed a disturbing ideological element in the policy planning of Tony Blair's New Labour cabinet in 2001, which went on to shape New Labour's strategy towards immigration into Britain and the Labour Government's frenzied support for a multi-cultural Britain and ethnic 'diversity'.

Since 1997 over 1.6 million people from across the world have been granted permanent right of residence in the UK, under the New Labour administration. It is suggested by some commentators that the New Labour Government were keen to increase the ethnic minority population in Britain, to force multi-culturalism onto the population to a point where it could not be reversed, and with a more sinister leftist motivation, the volume and speed of the multi-racial tide would effectively be

" TO RUB THE RIGHT'S NOSE IN DIVERSITY".

The Chairman of the pressure group MigrationWatch, Sir Andrew Green, has used the Freedom of Information Act to force the release of a New Labour draft cabinet paper from 2001 on the Blair Government's attitudes towards immigration. The existence of the document was revealed to a number of national newspapers by Andrew Neather, a former adviser to Prime Minister Tony Blair. The draft paper is written in the leftist language of New Labour, repeatedly referring to "social objectives", "diversity and social cohesion". It has been suggested by some Labour Party insiders that the thinking behind New Labour's 'relaxed' attitude to immigration was to create a population of migrants who would be more inclined to vote Labour and help to keep the party in power, effectively ditching its traditional British working-class supporters.

In an apparent rejection of classic Marxist thinking, the strategy for New Labour social engineering was to abandon ideas of traditional Labour Party class struggle and instead use the non-white population as the vehicle to create the socialist revolution...

Neather admitted that New Labour saw it as....

" I MEAN CRUELY SEEING THE ETHNIC MINORITIES AS ESSENTIALLY THE STANDARD BEARERS OF SOCIAL JUSTICE RATHER THANTHE WHITE WORKING CLASS."

This ideologically driven process explains a great deal in how subsequent Labour Party policy, doctrine and legislation was all aimed at protecting 'diversity and social cohesion' at all costs. Little wonder so much public funding and Police strategy has been poured into maintaining race and minority community relations.

In 2008 nearly a quarter of all births in England and Wales were to foreign born mothers.

In London the figures for the same period a half of all births in the British capital city were to foreign born mothers.

Black Councillor Charged With 'Racially Aggravated Harassment' For Calling Asian Councillor A "Coconut"

Bristol: July 2009.

During a debate on funding the so-called 'Legacy Commission' which commemorates the abolition of slavery, Indian born Asian councillor Jay Jethwa voted with the local Conservatives to cut funding for the 'Legacy Commission'.

A black councillor Shirley Brown was so angry at the cut in funding that she accused Jethwa of "denying her roots" and pandering to white opinion, calling Jay Jethwa a "coconut". (Meaning: Brown on the outside but white on the inside).

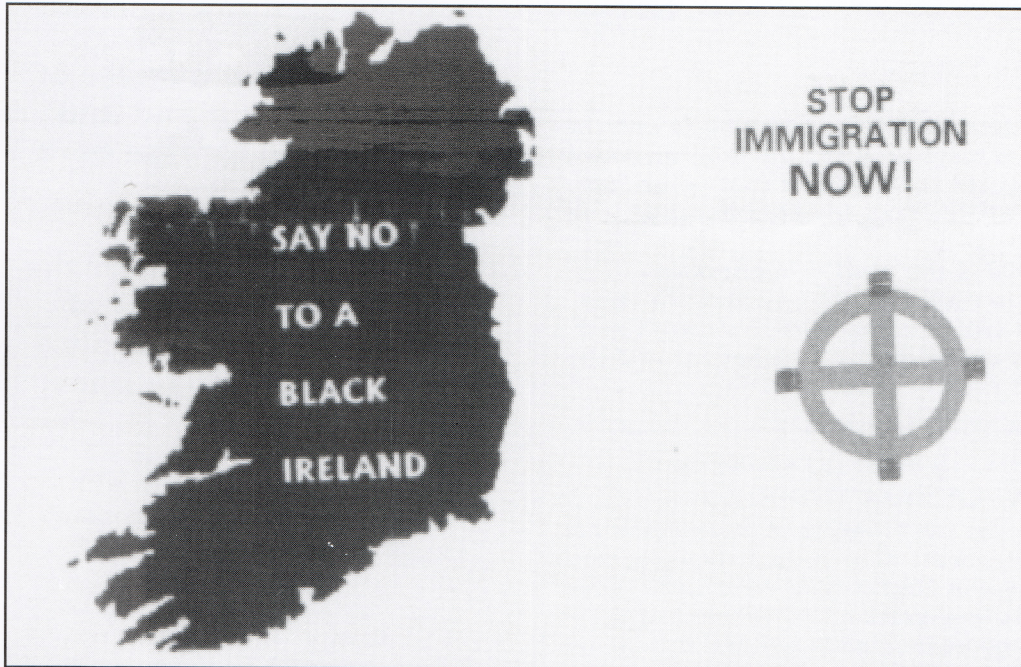

Liberal Democrat Bristol City Councillor Shirley Brown was charged with racially aggravated harassment and ordered to appear before Bristol magistrates court in February 2010.. Councillor Shirley Brown was also suspended from the council for a month for using "offensive and abusive language".

Dublin is particularly badly affected with an influx of both Africans and Slovak Gypsies.

Illegal Immigrants Riot Then the Local Italians Fight Back !

Rosarno - southern Italy - January 2010

Two Africans were shot and wounded after a night of rioting, as local people put up road blocks and armed themselves against further rioting by mobs of illegal immigrants. The illegal immigrants were working as crop pickers on local farms and had been living in a disused factory on the outskirts of Rosarno. After a number of clashes with locals, a mob of over 100 Africans had rampaged through the town, setting property on fire, attacking local people, setting cars on fire and fighting with the Police.

The following day 2,000 immigrants had demonstrated outside Rosarno town hall, accusing the local Italians of being "racists" and protesting at the police treatment of immigrants.

Angry at the violence and rioting, local people decided to act and blocked off local roads to keep the immigrants out of town. Later bulldozers were driven out to knock down the shacks in the shanty town around the disused factory where the Africans were squatting, effectively clearing out the illegal immigrants. More than 300 Africans fled to a centre for asylum seekers in the nearby town of Bari, more than 1,000 more were removed from the area around Rosarno for their own protection.

ANSWP Leader Bill White

Prosecuted and Persecuted by F.B.I

In previous issues of Broadsword we have reported on the activities of the ANSWP and the work of their leader Commander Bill White.

In January 2010 information arrived at Broadsword giving details of the Federal State persecution of this National Socialist activist and some of his loyal comrades. There is insufficient space in this issue to cover all the events and depths to which the FBI and other agencies have gone to in order to shut down Bill White's organisation but we will endeavour to give more details in the next issue of Broadsword. However a full report to date has appeared in the Northwest Observer, the bulletin of the North West Front, based in Seattle, USA.
www.northwestfront.org

If British readers think that there is freedom of speech and political expression in the USA - then think again.

Bill White has been repeatedly targetted by the FBI since 2003, and has been arrested, released and almost immediately re-arrested several times between 2006 and December 2009.

On December 18th 2009, Bill White was convicted in Roanoke, Virginia on four counts of "conveying terroristic threats" by publishing information on his web-site. All the information he published was a matter of public record and freely available, yet Bill White could face 40 years in prison !

Bill White was arrested on October 17th 2008 and was transferred around in the US penal system up until early 2009, without the right to contact his lawyers or his family. Letters written by Bill White to his wife in October and November 2008 were finally delivered to her in early 2009.

Much of his time being transferred across the USA by 'Con-Air; from Virginia to Oklahoma, to Chicago and finally back to Virginia in July 2009.

Much of his time he was held in solitary confinement, in Soviet style prison cells, denied phone calls, or contact with the outside world.

His case and treatment so far reads like the script of some Hollywood film, except this is for real!

MIND BENDERS and WORD TWISTERS
How the Liberal and Left-Wing Race-Mixers
Change Our Language in Order to Change
Attitudes and Shape Opinions.
The Sinister Arts of 'Political Correctness'

'Political correctness' was born out of 1960's Left-wing politics and the liberal ideology of equality for all. Those opinion-makers behind the 'Equality' campaigns decided early on, that the best way to force a change in attitudes was to change the way ordinary people expressed themselves and to remove 'oppressive' words from everyday use.

To this end the Leftists have tirelessly worked to create an environment where racially expressive words become 'taboo' and unacceptable in broadcasting, in print, and eventually in every day language. Such language, such words were then labelled "racist". When the Leftists were confident enough, they began to campaign to have certain 'racist' words declared a "Hate Crime".

It is now possible to be arrested on the street for using a slang racially descriptive word such as 'Paki', or "Yid."

Where once these words were heard in any pub or saloon bar. Today, political correctness has made the use of these and other words a "Hate Crime".

The media no longer refers to immigrant communities, or non-whites - the media and P.C. people refer to "Black Minority Ethnic" communities or BME for short.

The Politically Correct now dictate the usage of the everyday English language in order to shape the way that the White British speak and express themselves.

MIND BENDERS and IMAGE TWISTERS
How Television, Films and Advertising is Distorting Our Nation's History and Shaping Public Attitudes to Create a 'Multi-Racial' Society

It is a fact that black and Asian people did not settle in Britain in large established communities until after 1948. Unfortunately there are Left-wing politically motivated individuals in the world of Television and film production who are determined to convince the younger elements in British society, especially the children, that black and Asian people have always lived in Britain.

To this end, script writers and film producers deliberately put black, Asian or mixed-race characters into historical or costume dramas and childrens' TV series. These people believe that this insertion of non-white faces will serve two purposes; first it will encourage White children to accept the presence of non-white people in their communities because this film or that drama shows that they "Have always been here". Also it helps the non-whites to gain acceptance and to feel part of British history, because they see black and brown faces in films portraying events in Britain's past. Over time and in years to come, ordinary British people will come to believe it is true, because in every historical film they see, black and brown faces are there.

An Anti-Abortion Poster From The USA

This anti-abortion poster claims that abortion providers are deliberately targetting black, (African-American) women in order to wipe out the future black American population. Black campaigners allege that abortion in the USA is racially organised and call the abortion of black babies "womb lynchings".

It is highly unlikely that any kind of bill board poster claiming that 'White Children are an Endangered Species' would ever be allowed in either the USA or Britain.

BROADSWORD'S CAMPAIGN AGAINST 'POLITICAL CORRECTNESS'

A Weak Judicial System Fails To Deal Harshly With Sex Offenders Liberal Policies Are Being Forced On British Society.

British Movement Demands A Crack-Down On Paedophiles and Sexual Degeneracy.

Former Conservative Town Councillor Was Internet Pervert

Over recent years Broadsword magazine has exposed the hypocrisy of the mainstream political parties, who publicly present themselves as defenders of family values, law and order and morality. Yet once again a supposed pillar of the community has been exposed as an on-line sexual predator and a pervert.

Stephen Grant was a former Conservative Party activist, a former Conservative Town Councillor in Mirfield, West Yorkshire and a Roman Catholic religious studies teacher in a local school. The court was told that Grant told some of his former GCSE students that he had a teenage niece called Charlotte who was looking for a boyfriend. Then when he had their internet details, he went on to internet chatrooms pretending to be the none-existent 19 year old girl called Charlotte, using the name 'Shaz' in order to contact the teenage boys. Pretending to be Charlotte (Shaz) Grant would engage the boys in sexually loaded conversations and then encourage the boys to perform sexual acts for "Shaz" in front of a live web-camera link.

Grant, posing as "Shaz" became obsessed with six former pupils and bombarded two of them with text messages to a point where they blocked his messages.

Grant was so persistent that he spent 18 months posing as the fictional teenage girl on-line, chasing after the same group of former pupils. Eventually Stephen Grant was arrested and he admitted to eight offences of inciting a child to engage in sexual activity.

Leeds Crown Court sentenced 31 year old Stephen Grant to just 18 months in prison for his sordid Homo-sexual activities and ordered him to sign the sex offenders register.

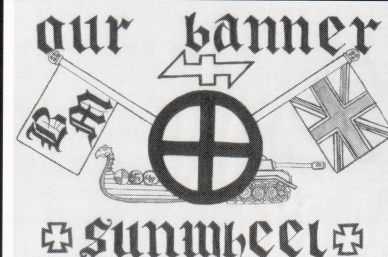

Broadsword says: It was the politicians of the main political parties that championed the cause of Homosexual Equality and 'Gay Rights'. This is one of the results of making homosexual activity socially and politically acceptable.

THE 'JIHAD GENERATION'

A TV documentary shown on BBC2 television on February 8th 2010 called "Generation Jihad" as part of a three part series on Islamic militants told the British viewing audience a few basic facts. Unfortunately the reality the documentary described is already well known to regular readers of Broadsword magazine and would come as no shock to most British White Nationalists.

Most of the programme focussed on a handful of young British born Asians who were involved directly with jihadist Islamic militant groups. However on the positive side the footage showed a open and honest look at the appearance of Asian districts in colonised parts of West Yorkshire towns. It is often the case that ordinary White British citizens have no idea what such areas actually look like, what heavily Asian populated districts transform into and how anti-white and anti-British some of these Islamic militants can be.

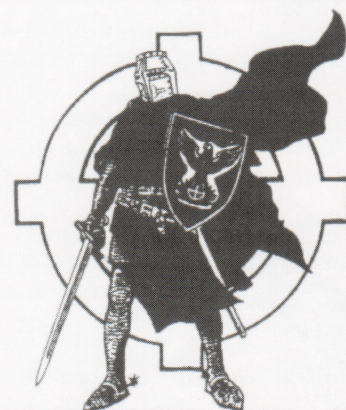

For some viewers it will have been an eye-opener, for others a depressing confirmation of how far our country has been colonised.

CONSPIRACY THEORY?

- What is the Truth Behind Common Purpose Is It Another Hidden Hand ?

One of the standard left-wing responses to any kind of suggestion from the so-called 'political Right' that there are powerful interest groups manipulating government policy is to ridicule the suggestion as a 'conspiracy theory'.

As far as left-wing and liberal opinion makers are concerned, there is no such thing as a 'conspiracy' no such thing as a 'hidden hand'.

Conveniently the leftist hacks in the media have routinely ignored the activities of such behind the scenes movers and shakers as the Bilderberg Group, the Tri-Lateral Commission and others. Now within the UK there is a new string puller behind the scenes, it is called Common Purpose.

WHAT IS COMMON PURPOSE ?

Common Purpose is a secretive but influential body set up under the Blairite Labour administration in the 1990's. It is a registered charity and is presented as being committed to education, skills training and career development courses.

It seeks to identify, train and promote individuals who can be 'groomed' into future leaders in the fields of education, social services, health, the civil service, utility companies, local and regional government offices, the fire and rescue services including the police. Naturally these individuals will be people who can demonstrate that they have the right kind of 'mind-set' in terms of social and political values to benefit from the kind of support that inclusion in Common Purpose cadres will bring. Common purpose exists to generate the opinionshapers and policy makers of the future, the guiding hands who will build and shape Britain's public services for decades to come, no matter which mainstream political party is in government. Those Common Purpose graduates who are embedded in local councils, civil service offices, regional government departments and 'quangos' will continue to pursue the approved ideological programme set down by Common Purpose, seeking to achieve its targets and policies. They will also ensure that other Common Purpose adherents are recruited and promoted, while those individuals who hold 'politically unacceptable' opinions and attitudes are sidelined or excluded from any serious positions of influence in whichever organisation that Common Purpose is 'shaping' or controlling.

Not surprisingly the undeclared agenda will always be leftist and multi-cultural, with a strong element of anti-racism and anti-discrimination policies. Common Purpose adherents will of course support like-minded organisations and where it can direct funding and resources to groups and campaigns that share Common Purpose values and objectives. This is particularly worrying when considering what influence Common Purpose carries in some official bodies that should be impartial, especially those

Protocol No. 16

"In order to effect the destruction of all collective forces except ours we shall emasculate the first stage of collectivism - the universities, by re-educating them in a new direction.

Their officials and professors will be prepared for their business by detailed secret programmes of action from which they will not without immunity diverge, not by one iota. They will be appointed with special precaution and will be placed as to be wholly dependent upon the Government."

* The Protocols are constantly dismissed by Establishment academics and the liberal media as a hoax, a malicious forgery created by the Czarist secret police in the early 20th Century. BUT.....on reading the Protocols, it is impossible to ignore the very obvious comparisons with what is taking place in our political, social and economic reality today !

Common Purpose fits exactly into the model set out in the Protocols... Is that a Coincidence?

Common Purpose is secretive and cloaks its activities and the names of those directly involved in representing its agenda. This is entirely in keeping with the image of a conspiracy.

Criticism of Common Purpose is attacked and mocked as paranoia and 'Conspiracy theory'.

involved with law and order, justice and the police. So far Common Purpose has avoided direct investigation despite the best efforts of some fringe Conservative-linked organisations and certain anti-Marxist patriotic individuals.

Common Purpose is tied in with strongly pro-European Union leftist think-tanks and follows a clearly marked internationalist programme. Common Purpose is yet another well-funded, well-organised and resourced hidden hand that all committed British Nationalists and National Socialists should be on their guard as to its agenda.

WE WILL HAVE OUR COUNTRY BACK!

SHIRES AWAKE !

Broadsword has frequently stated that the British Movement leadership believes that the National Socialist revolution in Britain will not begin in the cities or the towns of the urban conurbations, but in the rural villages and market towns of the shire counties. These communities are still largely White and British, with closer ties to the culture and heritage of our nation than the cosmopolitan, industrial and commercial centres.

To this end, the Shires are still in touch with what it means to be British and have not yet been swallowed up in the morass of soulless multi-culturalism.

For decades the 'Old Gang' of Westminster politicians have systematically betrayed and neglected our rural communities. When the M.P.'s are not busy riding the gravy train and feathering their own nests (or duck houses !), they have been pouring the tax-payers' money into the colonised urban ghettos. This is all part of the frantic scramble by the main political parties to win over the votes of the ethnic minorities in the forthcoming General Election. In their view the white Working-class are an irrelevant irritation.

Meanwhile our countryside is in crisis.

We are all familiar with the damage to rural communities caused by the closure of village schools, village shops, post offices and pubs. Add to this the lack of public transport and other key public services; doctors, dentists, local hospitals and maternity units. However, now rural communities are also being placed at a serious disadvantage by a lack of access to high-speed broadband networks, despite Government promises of a service for all. In view of the remoteness of many rural areas, lack of satisfactory access to the internet handicaps rural businesses, schools, doctor's surgeries and other already limited facilities, located in these so-called "broadband deserts".

If this were happening to the 'inner cities' the M.P.'s would be jumping into action to get things changed. Many of those being left in the internet's 'slow lane' are the people we rely on to look after the countryside on our behalf, namely Britain's farmers. In real terms livestock farms are receiving less now than they were two decades ago. Production costs have increased and since, 2005, subsidies ceased to be linked to production and thus such support has declined. The dairy sector has been suffering in particular. The number of dairy farms has declined by more than 50% in the past decade and each week 14 farmers are giving up. As a result we are now importing over 1 million litres of fresh milk every day. Yet this country has some of the best dairy farming conditions in the world.

I support British Movement because I believe that only our Movement truly cares about our countryside and rural communities. Only our Movement has the necessary drive and will power to carry out the radical action required to save and protect our National identity, culture and heritage.

The National Socialist plan for action will include;

- Withdrawal from the European Union and abolition of the Common Agricultural policy.
- Support and protection for British agriculture by using tariffs and import duties and quotas to combat cheap foreign imports, which undercut the price of local produce.
- Breaking the stranglehold of the supermarkets by windfall taxes and business rates.
- Guaranteed minimum prices for British farmers and producers, together with support for farmer's markets and co-operatives.
- Ensuring that rural communities have easy access to the internet and that businesses located in rural or remote areas can take full advantage of the technological revolution.
- Halting the urban sprawl and all building projects and developments which desecrate the countryside and threaten or encroach on 'green-belt' land.
- Halting the expansion or creation of 'Travellers' sites in rural areas.
- Stopping all financial support for organisations which promote multi-culturalism, cultural diversity, refugees, asylum-seekers and the development of urban or ghetto arts and culture.

The resulting savings in government expenditure will be diverted to help rural areas by subsidising village shops, post offices, community centres, health centres and other services vital to maintaining traditional local communities, culture and the rural way of life.

This is the message that our National Socialist activists must take to the people of the Shire counties.

Muslim Radicals Infiltrate the Labour Party
Their Aim is to Introduce Sharia Law To Britain and to Turn Britain Into an Islamic State.

Radical Muslims Infiltrating the Labour Party.
If press reports and official Labour Party denials are to be believed, then the Islamic Forum of Europe (IFE) has been operating a policy of infiltration within the Labour Party in east London. In a startling revelation to a mainstream Sunday newspaper, Labour Government Environment Minister Jim Fitzpatrick admitted that the Labour Party in districts of east London had been infiltrated by the fundamentalist Muslim organisation the Islamic Forum of Europe (IFE) which wants to create, "Islamic social and political order in Britain". The Labour Minister stated that, "the IFE had become a secret party within Labour and other political parties". The IFE had worked over recent years in areas like Tower Hamlets, Poplar and Canning Town to gain control over local Labour Party branches, getting IFE supporters elected as local councillors and mobilising Asian voters to support the IFE agenda. Fitzpatrick also revealed that the Labour Party membership in IFE infiltrated branches had risen by 110 % in two years, he stated that the IFE had "infiltrated and corrupted" the Labour Party in east London, exercising influence at local level and seeking influence at national level.

Massive Mosque Planned for Chelmsford
Historic Essex Town Targeted for Mosque Project

Over the last six years the ethnic minority population of Chelmsford in Essex has risen to 10.5% of the town's total population. The biggest section of the non-white population of Chelmsford are Indians and Pakistanis, and now in keeping with their growing numbers come demands for a greater level of representation and influence locally. The Asian Muslims in Chelmsford are demanding the building of a new 'Islamic centre' on council owned land on the banks of the River Chelmer. Local Pakistani resident Faheem Akhtar is campaigning for the building of the Islamic Centre, which would include a huge mosque, an Islamic cultural centre, a women's centre, nursery and Muslim funeral facilities. Faheem Akhtar told the 'Essex Chronicle' that the campaign wanted Chelmsford Council to use taxpayers' money to pay for the new mosque and Islamic centre, "I would hope that the council which owns the land there would give it to us and help us pay for the new centre". A Chelmsford Council report, presented by Council 'diversity chief' Nagina Kayani, called for a "multi-ethnic hub for all minority communities". But this is rejected by Mr Akhtar who wants a cultural centre and mosque only for the Muslims.

UNDER SURVEILLANCE

The New Labour Police State

Elsewhere in this issue of Broadsword the issue of State surveillance and Police monitoring of political opposition and the general population has been raised. The Stalinist apparatus of State control is a direct result of the New Labour Government's desire to suppress and control any dissent towards its policies. The generally acknowledged paranoia of Prime Minister Gordon Brown towards any kind of opposition or criticism has fuelled the increase in new legislation and emergency measures, theoretically in place as part of the "Global War on Terrorism" but in reality being used to curb fringe political activists, domestic opposition and pressure groups. The overuse of police powers in the guise of national security and anti-terrorist action has interestingly not been aimed at combating Islamic extremists or dissident Irish Republican para-militaries, but at climate change/Green protests, anti-War demonstrations and British Nationalist and anti-immigration organisations. Now the State has a new addition to its already extensive range of technology and digital surveillance equipment, the UAV - 'Unmanned Aerial Vehicles'. Sometimes referred to as 'Drones', these small, remote-controlled spy planes are already used extensively by the military in Iraq, Afghanistan and other theatres of military operations. Now the police in the UK are starting to make use of UAV's/Drones to monitor public events, political demonstrations and rallies. No longer content to have building mounted CCTV, static camera vehicles, static video surveillance teams, specialist police video teams on foot and helicopter mounted video cameras over public gatherings, the police now are using drones to film, record and identify individuals taking part in protests, rallies or just public gatherings, including sporting events. In Britain the drones (UAV's) are being marketed by AirRobot UK, a company with links to the arms manufacturer BAE Systems. According to some media sources, AirRobots UK has already supplied twelve British police forces with drones, including Merseyside police, Kent police and of course the Metropolitan Police. The drones can of course be directly linked in to CCTV systems on the ground, given that Britain has more CCTV cameras in operation than any other country (4.2 million cameras at last count). The British Police State is now a reality, catered for and funded by New Labour's 'Stasi' policies.

OUR ANCESTORS VIKINGS

In the previous installment of this series on the Viking influence on the British Isles, Part 3 concluded with the death of Eric Bloodaxe, the last Viking king of York. However, the Norse involvement in British history did not end there, it continued up to the Norman Conquest of 1066, with intermittent raids and incursions up to the year 1085, when Svein Estridson's failed invasion of England signalled the last serious military attack on British soil.

This was a time of great warrior-kings in the Viking ranks, great fleets of ships, great battles and legendary figures such as Svein Forkbeard, Olaf Tryggvason, Thorkell the Tall, and King Harald Hardrada. It would also see a great legend of Anglo-Saxon/English verse born out of the tragic battle of Maldon.

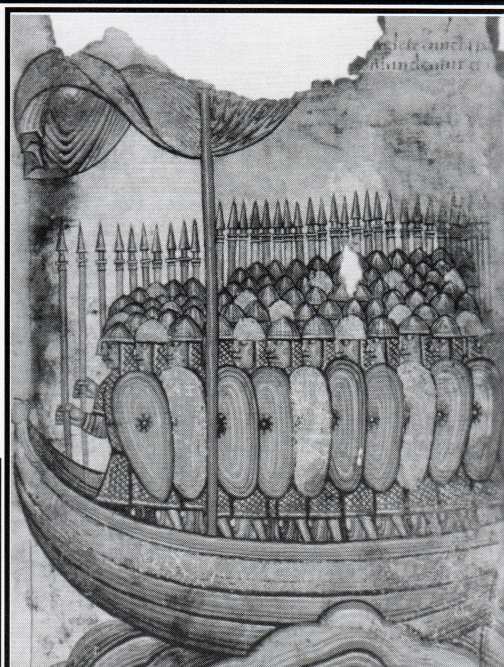

The period from 980 to 1080 AD was an extremely violent and confusing time, a time of viking raids, a time of betrayal and shifting allegiances, a time of uncertainty for the peoples of England, both Anglo-Saxon and Dane (Norse). It was also a period which would see the Royal houses of the Anglo-Saxons ruling England, only to be replaced by Danish kings, only to be replaced by Anglo-Saxons again, only to be finally unseated by a Norman invader.

This was a time of great change, and it had an enormous impact in shaping the culture, language and political structure of England for centuries to come. The Norse language would continue to be spoken in the former territories of the 'Danelaw' well into the Norman period and lingered in some form into the early Medieval period. Christianity was firmly embedded in the Anglo-Saxon regions of England, but less so in the North, in particular the Church lost much of the 'See of Northumbria' during the 10th Century and Chroniclers recorded how the people of those districts had returned to the worship of the 'Old Gods', sacred stones and wells.

However, in the reign of Ethlred the Church began to regain its lost territory and when Canute became king he too ensured that Christianity was firmly established and the Church protected.

When Eric Bloodaxe died in battle on Stainmore in 954, England settled down under the rule of the Anglo-Saxon kings, but it was an uneasy peace. The Norse kings still regarded England as part of their 'world' and for the next 100 years, would seek to join the throne of England to the thrones of Illustration from an 11th Century manuscript showing Viking warriors aboard a longship, landing in England.

Denmark and Norway. By now the joint Norse kingdom of Dublin and York had been broken by both the Irish kings and the Anglo-Saxon kings of the House of Wessex, but the Danish/Norse presence in England, particularly in northern England and especially in Northumbria continued to be an unsettling

THE BATTLE OF MALDON

Fought in August 991, Maldon was to be a landmark in British history. The great battle was recorded in poem and became the basis of legend. The fierce defence of English soil by the warrior Byrhtnoth, ealdorman of Essex and his loyal men became a symbol of how the English would defend their land and defy invaders down the centuries.

The Spirit of Maldon and Byrhtnoth's brave words to his men and challenge to the enemy recorded in Anglo-Saxon literature as an example of how the 'English' could fight against greater odds.

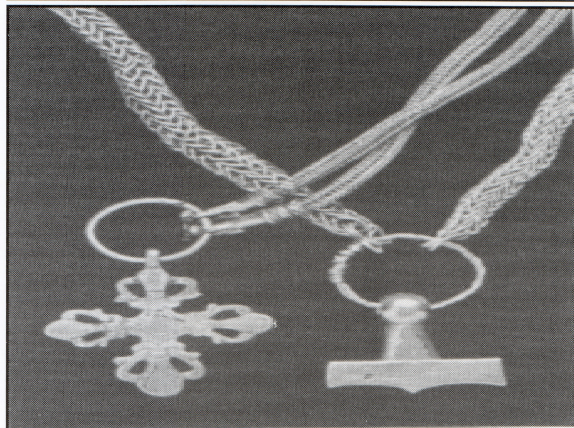

Byrhtnoth called out to the Norsemen on the ships that the only tribute they would get was spears !

influence. There were many who looked back to the time when a Viking king ruled the North from his great hall in York. Moreover the great warrior kings and chieftains in Norway and Denmark could still raise sufficient armies and fleets to challenge the Anglo-Saxon kings even warrior-kings such as Edmund Ironside.

In the year 980, the Viking raids began again in earnest, culminating in the arrival of a huge invasion fleet of over 90 ships in the Thames Estuary in 991.

Commanded by Olaf Tryggvason and Svein Forkbeard, the fleet sailed into the Thames and landed at Blackwater. The scene was set for the legendary battle of Maldon, the loss of great numbers of the Anglo-Saxon nobility and a series of devastating attacks on London, Kent and South-East England. For the next thirty years Viking fleets and armies rampaged across Southern England, Devon and Cornwall, towns burned, thousands killed or enslaved. After Maldon, King Ethlred (The Unready) had begun the policy of paying tribute in gold and silver - Danegeld - to pay off threatened attacks.

OUR ANCESTORS - THE VIKINGS PART 4

The Craft of the Silversmith in Viking Age Britain.

An Anglo-Saxon Cross and a Thor's Hammer on decorative silver chains.

A silversmith's mould cut to produce the Cross of Christ and the Thor's Hammer at the same time to cater for both faiths.

This was a time when the throne of England was repeatedly placed in jeopardy and different regions held different loyalties, complex influences of being of Celtic, 'English' or Norse origins, religion played its part as did loyalty to one's lord.

Mistrust and the constant threat of attack by Viking fleets created serious tensions. On St Brice's Day, November 13th 1002, there were massacres in southern and eastern England when the 'English' turned on those neighbours of Danish/Norse descent. There were rumours that this killing was ordered by King Ethelred himself as punishment for those who had supported recent Viking incursions.

Despite this King Ethelred continued to pay 'Danegeld' - in 1002 AD 24,000 pounds was paid; in 1007 AD 30,000 pounds and after three disastrous years of raids; in 1010 AD an amazing sum of 48,000 pounds was paid to a Viking fleet to 'go away'. Incredibly, King Ethelred even took to hiring Viking mercenaries to protect his kingdom. In 1012 AD a fleet of 45 longships commanded by Thorkell the Tall, were paid to defend London and anchored in the Thames. (Surprising indeed because Thorkell had led raiding fleets just three years previously!)

In 1013, Ethelred's luck ran out and he fled to Normandy to escape the victorious army of Svein Forkbeard, the Danish King was crowned King of England, but died the following year and Ethelred returned to snatch back the throne for the House of Wessex. This did not last, Svein's son Canute had also been hailed as King by the Viking/Danish settlers and ethelred struggled to hold onto his kingdom. He died in 1015 AD but not before seeing his own son, Prince Edmund Ironside raise an army and challenge Canute for the throne of England. Once again warfare raged across southern England, culminating in the Battle of Ashington near modern Southend, Essex. It was a disaster for the House of Wessex, Edmund's army was destroyed and many Anglo-Saxon nobles were killed. Canute was victorious and he became King of England and of Denmark. Canute ruled as a Christian king and held both kingdom's until his death in 1035. Once again the throne of England was a prized trophy, eventually in 1042, falling to the pious, exiled son of Ethelred, Prince Edward, who came to called Edward the Confessor for his religious leanings. He died in 1066, without a son or daughter, the throne was taken by Prince Harald Godwinson, another noble from the West Saxon Royalty. Almost immediately this was challenged by both Harald the Ruthless (Hardrada) of Norway and equally by Duke William (William the Bastard) of Normandy. Both raised armies and invasion fleets, but it was the Norsemen who struck first, aided by Harald Godwinson's renegade brother Tosti, his fleet of 300 ships appeared on the mouth of the Tyne, ravaged the East coast and sailed up the Humber to take York. Meanwhile as Harald Godwinson marched north to confront and defeat the Norsemen, Duke William's fleet landed on the south coast.

The tremendous slaughter in northern England at York, Fulford and days later at Stamford Bridge, left a legacy of distrust and political uncertainty in the North for years to come. The forced march by the Anglo-Saxon armies from the south coast to Humber was a tremendous feat of endurance and stamina, matched only by the grim determination of King Harald and his army to march south to Hastings to confront the Norman invasion within days of the victory at Stamford Bridge. At Hastings on Senlac Hill, England and Britain's fate was sealed. The destruction of the English army at Hastings illustrated the Anglo-Saxon soldier's attitude to loyalty and honour as King Harald's housecarls fought to the death around the body of their fallen king. As with Byrhtnoth at Maldon, the tradition of Germanic warriors was honour and loyalty, death in battle beneath their standards, they did not abandon their fallen leader.

"In the day of battle it is scandalous to the Prince to be surpassed in feats of bravery, scandalous to his followers to fail in matching the bravery of the Prince. But it is infamy during life, and indelible reproach, to return alive from a battle where their Prince was slain."

The warrior traditions of the Anglo-Saxons and the Norsemen in England would be eclipsed by the traditions of their new Norman overlords and would bring new ideas of honour, knighthood and eventually 'Chivalry' to the armies of the British.

The next part of this series will deal with the Norman invasion and the end of Anglo-Saxon England. It will also be the last in the series of the articles 'Our Ancestors'.

Blood & Biology

The Ideological Roots of 21st Century National Socialism

The Ideological Roots of Modern National Socialism are to be Found in the Principles and Theories Laid Down in the Germanic-SS in the 1940's.

The Germanic-SS Developed the Concept of a Pan-European National Socialist Movement Which Embraced All European Nations.
Those ideals Spread Beyond 1945 and Evolved
Into the Form of National Socialism
Advocated by British Movement Today.

"The Fuhrer has set us the goal for our generation to be a new beginning -
He wants us to return to the source of the blood, to root us again in the soil - he seeks again for strength from sources which have been buried for 2,000 years.

Heinrich Himmler, 1935.

Race is the foundation on which National Socialism is built, and British Movement believes that race is the most important factor in creating a National Socialist revolution and re-building British society as a mono-racial folkish state.

The Left-wing ideologists behind the great multi-cultural/multi-racialist experiment, who have aided and abetted mass non-white immigration and colonisation of Britain, are fully aware of the natural aversion that the ordinary British people feel towards non-white immigration and settlement. That is why there has been an unrelenting propaganda war since the mid-1960's to force the British public into accepting the presence of non-white communities in Britain. Over time the politically committed Left and their liberal allies have gained control of the political policy making system, have come to dominate the education system, and through the socialist factions of the Trade Unions and the Labour Party have passed laws and legislation to promote and defend multi-culturalism and a multi-racial population. At the same time the drive to instill multi-racialism into everyday thinking has sought to outlaw 'racist' thinking and has worked overtime to make 'racism' and opposition to multi-racialism unacceptable. To this end, the multi-culturalists and race-mixers have been very successful.

The race-mixers have campaigned in stages, each phase of their ideological struggle to turn Britain into a multi-racial society has had a very deliberate and calculated theme. In the late 1950's and 1960's it was the drive to gain acceptance of the presence of a 'coloured' population in Britain. Then it was the drive to put the Race Relations laws and anti-racial discrimination legislation on the statutes.

This was coupled with highly vocal campaigns to silence pro-White, anti-immigration organisations.
This campaign continued into the 1970's and 1980's, together with long running efforts to gain special recognition for black, Asian and other non-white cultural events, religious festivals and special rights.

Left-wing groups fought hard to get blacks and Asians elected as Trade Union leaders, local councillors and Members of Parliament, thus increasing their influence in the political system and their ability to push White Nationalism and White 'racism' to the fringes and eventually to outlaw any vestiges of exclusively White British culture or activity.

From the 1980's, through the 1990's to the present day, the multi-racialists have driven their campaigns to make their vision of Britain mainstream. All aspects of British media and cultural life has now to 'reflect' the cultural and racial 'diversity' that the political Left has fought decades to create.

For the multi-racialists the concept of 'Race' has to be broken down, the increased acceptance of mixed racial relationships is yet another stage of their long term plan, another phase. Little wonder that so many TV programmes, films, and even advertisements feature racially mixed couples, because this is the future face of Britain they want to see.
If the White British can eventually be turned into a minority, then White British 'racialism' will die out with the White British.

There is still time for us to prevent this happening!

Our Readers Say.....

The opinions expressed in these columns are those of the contributors and do not represent official British Movement policy or opinion.

OUR COUNTRY IS A RECRUITMENT AND TRAINING CAMP FOR ISLAMIC TERRORISTS

The revelation that the 'Detroit Bomber' studied at University College London from 2005 to 2008 has highlighted the weaknesses of the British student visa system and lists of colleges approved to register foreign students. Investigations have revealed that many such colleges are 'bogus'.

During the past eight years about one and a half million overseas students were granted entry into the UK. In the academic year 2008/09, a total of 236,470 non-EU students were given full visas compared to 69,607 in 1998/99. A further 144,000 were given visas for 6 months or less. Including EU nationals, the total for last year rises to about half a million.

There is no mechanism for checking how many students leave at the end of their courses!

No doubt many are still here as illegals.

British universities, especially UC London and the London School of Economics, have been accused of leniency towards extremist Islamic groups and their activities on campus. There are estimated to be about 100,000 Muslim students in the UK, many are from Pakistan. During his time at UCL the 'Detroit Bomber' was President of the College's Islamic Society. He organised debates about the "War on Terror", Guantanamo Bay prisoners and the torture of civilians in Iraq. He also arranged for a series of lectures by extremist Islamic clerics.

In the 1990's, LSE enrolled Omar Sheikh, who, in 2002 kidnapped and beheaded Daniel Pearl (the Wall Street Journal reporter). In 2003, two students from King's College London carried out a suicide mission in Tel Aviv. Extremist cleric Anwer-al-Awlaki (spiritual mentor for many Islamic terrorists) has spoken several times on British college campuses. In 2003, he was the 'distinguished guest' at the annual dinner of the Federation of Student Islamic Societies.

Mohammed Sidique Khan, one of the 2007 London bombers, studied at Leeds Metropolitan University. Kofeel Ahmed, was one of the Glasgow Airport bombers, he was educated at Cambridge University. Omar Rehman, now serving 15 years for conspiracy to blow up several UK and US targets, attended Westminster.

It is no wonder that US Intelligence services call our capital city 'Londonistan' and accuse the UK of being the main hub for 'Al Qaeda' activity in Europe, and a 'soft touch' as far as Muslim extremists are concerned.

The Labour Party sometimes panders to White voters by talking tough on immigration. Both Labour and Conservative politicians spout plans to limit future immigration, but this is all hot air. You can be sure that no effective action will be taken.

We all know that the main problem is not future immigration, but the millions of non-whites who are already here.

No real action will be taken to preserve our Race, Nation and identity until we have a British Movement government implementing National Socialist policies.

Then...WE WILL HAVE OUR COUNTRY BACK !

Hawkwood - Essex N.S.

WHAT ABOUT THE WORKING CLASS?

Now and then the press lets slip some information they don't really want known by the general public. For example it seems that there are children amongst the British working-class who are suffering from scurvy.

The family income is so low, due to their fathers' long term unemployment, and consequent poverty, that they can't afford an adequate diet, hence the return of the old disease of the poor - scurvy.

Nowadays a lot of the factories that would have employed British workers and paid a living wage, have been 'outsourced' to India, Vietnam and China, to take advantage of cheap, labour.

The press don't dwell on such facts of course. They try to make it seem as if it's all the fault of the British working man. Robert Winder, who is a Left-wing journalist from the 'New Statesman', has written a book called "Bloody Foreigners". In its pages he says that the British workers are infected with what he calls, "the British disease" are lazy and rough. Winder claims that the British working class are not cultured, and refined, their poverty is the fault of lazy fathers who should go out and get a job !

This analysis ignores the fact that there are two and a half million unemployed in Britain and the figure is rising.

It also ignores the reality that some seven million households in the UK find difficulty in paying their gas and electricity bills. Poverty is not their fault despite what this middle class, left-wing journalist might think. According to a Christian missionary working in Glasgow, life expectancy in parts of the city are lower than in the Gaza Strip !

This is astonishing because the British Government is sending £50 million in foreign aid to the people in the Gaza Strip. George Galloway MP organised a convoy of vehicles to carry aid to Gaza.

Yet there is greater poverty and need on his doorstep in Glasgow !

Why does the British Government and George Galloway ignore the poverty rife in the east end of Glasgow?

Diminished life span, inadequate diet, scurvy due to poverty is the real 'British disease'.

H.M. Glasgow.

RADICAL OPINIONS

BBC = British Brainwashing Corporation

One of the major obstacles our Movement faces in its struggle to save our Race and Nation is the Media. This includes newspapers, both national and local; commercial television and radio channels but especially the BBC.

The BBC still has a wide audience for its TV and radio channels, but also by means of the internet and IPOD downloads. During the past 50 years the BBC has increased its propaganda campaign in favour of multi-culturalism and multi-racialism. Every opportunity is taken to denigrate the White Race, our culture and heritage. They claim to be 'impartial' but this is a joke. No 'nationalist' party, however moderate will be treated fairly. Every tactic will be used to smear and damage any political party which seems to threaten the 'left/liberal/internalist' mindset which pervades throughout the BBC.

I am sure that all our Movement's members and supporters will have noticed the following over the years:-

- the increasing number of 'ethnic minority' news readers, programme presenters, characters in 'soap operas', dramas etc. There are always token black or Asians (often more than one now) in dramas. Even in historical programmes, covering periods in our history when our country was a White nation, they will include non-white characters.
- the increasing number of mixed-race family groups in programmes. This especially applies to adverts shown on commercial TV channels.
- the number of times during news programmes when street interviews are carried out that 'ethnic minority' interviewees are chosen to comment.
- news items featuring schools, hospitals, factories or offices when the camera focusses on non-white students, patients or workers.

A good example of the BBC's relentless anti-white propaganda was the recent series of programmes entitled "White Season". The BBC claimed that the aim of these programmes was to explain why the White Working-class feels alienated, forgotten and disaffected in its own country.

However, the series was in truth used as a means to sneer at the White working-class, and ridicule its traditions and culture. The underlying message was to promote the 'benefits' of diversity and multi-racialism, and to impress on the White British that it must forget its history and integrate with and welcome all their new neighbours, who have come to solve our economic problems by filling all the jobs that 'we' are too lazy to do ourselves !

The excellent article "Ghetto Culture" in a recent issue of "Broadsword" underlines how the media promotes 'ethnic' music and 'urban' culture in order to undermine White youth. As a result a lot of our young people are being dragged into a multi-racial cesspit where they become racially blind and are drawn into becoming victims of non-white drug dealers.

There will be no end to this brain-washing campaign while the media is owned and controlled by 'alien finance' and the likes of non-Aryan minds, the likes of Michael Grade, Daniel Cohen, Alan Yentob, David Abramovitch and Jenny Abromsky.

British viewers and listeners need to recognise their enemy and remember that when they pay their TV licence fee !

THE BATTLE OF THE WILL

We Will Have Our Country Back!

And how will we do it?

What is the first hurdle that we must cross on the path to reclaiming what is, and always has been ours?

The battle that must first be won, is the battle of the mind. A thousand battles may be won upon the streets, but if the battle of the mind is not won, then the war is lost. First and foremost you must be clear about who you are, and what you want; do you fight for the '14 Words', for 'Britain for the British', for 'Race and Nation', or to take your country back ?

When your goal is clear, there can be no middle ground, study the facts and be certain in your mind who your enemy, and the enemy of your people really is, and then you become focussed. Drive all that the enemy tempts you with from your thoughts, ignore the painted fantasy in which the enemy would have you live. Find the reality of your folk, blood and soil, race and nation, and strive for that and that alone. This is the path that will bring you home. Close your mind to all else, the distractions of the modern world, be true to your goal, be true to yourself and your folk. All around us, temptations lurk in the form of money, materialism, fashion and consumerism, that path is not yours. the path you must follow leads back to your roots, to your folk, your blood and your soil. Each morning when you awake your mind must be stronger than yesterday, strength of mind is the ladder to victory.

Make yesterday's mistakes the wisdom of today and build upon that wisdom.

Make tomorrow your own.

National Socialism is both ideological and spiritual; it embraces blood and soil, race and nation, Folk and family.

Win the battle of the will and Tomorrow Will Belong To Us !

BUILDING AN N.S. FUTURE

The creation of a National Socialist state in Great Britain is the ultimate goal of British Movement, and in order to achieve the creation of a National Socialist 'New Order' in the UK, we must first create the political conditions by which this situation can be realised.

This will be a long and difficult struggle, but it can be done and for the future of our people it must be done. We must right the wrongs inflicted upon our people in the name of multi-racialism and multi-culturalism, we must regain the birth-right of our people taken from them by stealth and the lies of democractic politicians and Left-wing ideologists. So-called progressive thinkers and opinion makers who have corrupted our nation's psyche.

Building The National Socialist Revolution

Brick By Brick - Piece By Piece.

We Will Have Our Country Back!

In Order For the British People to Shake Off Their Chains and Restore Their National Identity
They Must Re-Connect With the Earth and Nature of Their Country - Re-Discover Their Connection To Britain's Natural Beauty - Connect With Britain's Blood and Soil.

One of the central aspects of building an Aryan Renaissance, and creating a National Socialist revolution in British society, is to recreate the sense of connection between the British people and their homeland. For too many of the White British their immersion in concrete dominated cities and industrial towns has cut them off from the beauty and spirituality of natural Britain. Added to this the onslaught on their senses by consumerism and media fuelled commercialism, over several generations of those not directly connected to the land or sea, they lose that essential connection to their 'Mother Earth'.

Blood and Soil is a foundation stone of National Socialism, it is the spiritual, physical, emotional and psychological thread that binds a people to their native land. If a people can no longer feel that connection, or be inspired by the natural beauty of their homeland, then they become a souless people, no longer connected to the land of their birth, and become ripe for exploitation and domination by those alien, rootless cosmopolitans who seek to destroy national identity and national pride in order to create a 'One World' population.

The chaos and souless nature of a multi-racial, multi-cultural population effectively drowns the sense of racial identity and spirit of national belonging amongst those indigenous citizens trapped in the brick and concrete canyons of the major cities.

Trapped and disconnected these people no longer feel part of the Folk, no longer recognise their country of origin, stay within the tarmac ribbons of their metropolitan prisons and have no concept of what their country really looks like.

As part of the British National Socialist Movement's drive to build a National Socialist society, we must work to reconnect the urban British with the 'Great Outdoors', with Britain's "Green and Pleasant" land, to re-awaken their sense of racial connection to their ancestral home and to seek out a sense of spiritual connection with the hills and mountains, the rivers and valleys, the woodland and fenlands, the coast and the sea.

When once again they feel that sense of connection, they will also realise that this land must not be lost, that it is worth fighting for, and that only through National Socialism can this be done.

Remember - This Land is Ours !
Centuries of ancestral ties bind us to this land, this is where we as a people have our roots.
Re-Awaken the spiritual connection to this land and we will never give it up to those who do not belong.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

The views and opinions expressed on this page represent the views of our readers and their publication does not indicate support or endorsement of those opinions or adoption as official British Movement policy.

Dear Broadsword,

Once again congratulations on the last issue of your journal (No.37). I particularly appreciated the tribute to the late Colin Jordan. This was certainly welcome to counter balance the uninvited defamatory obituaries in the 'gutter rags' our so-called national newspapers.

In addition I fully endorse the article "Democracy is Death". The continuing controversy about M.P.'s expenses, salaries and pensions shows that the Westminster politicians are learning nothing from the revelations about their gross misuse of tax-payers' money. One event in particular illustrates the rottenness of this corrupt so-called democratic political system.

The Speaker of the House of Commons, who was forced from office, has returned to the House of Lords as Baron Martin of Springburn!

Those wishing to obtain a greater understanding as to how our country has reached this sorry state of affairs are recommended to read the books entitled, "The Leese Collection" and the "Jewish War of Survival" written by the late Arnold S. Leese.

In conclusion I wish to praise the latest article on the BMWD page by 'The Rose' entitled "The War on Want". The contents of that article provides an important lesson for all of us as National Socialists. We must reject the decadent, consumerist and materialistic culture, (the Coca-Cola Culture), that has spread out from the USA to infect all the countries of the world. One of the aims of the alien financiers, who are the driving force behind the establishment of the 'New World Order', is to enslave us in a prison of debt and usury.

We must continue to build a Movement of National Resistance, so that one day we can be truly free and save our Race, Nation, Culture and Identity.

R.M. Essex N.S.

Dear Broadsword,

The following are the reasons why people should support British Movement and not the BNP.

1. BNP leader Nick Griffin has said that he wants ethnic minorities to be able to join the BNP, despite grass-roots opposition by BNP members. The BNP has trimmed its policies and now resembles a right-wing Tory party. British Movement is a National Socialist organisation for White (Aryan) British people only.
 2. The BNP has dropped its repatriation policy and will allow millions of immigrants to reside in our country, to take our jobs and houses. This is approval of the divisive policy of multi-culturalism and multi-racialism, which leads to crime, race riots and racial tension. British Movement seeks to solve racial problems by implementing a compulsory repatriation programme of return for non-Europeans to their ethnic homelands, To restore an all-White Britain.
 3. The BNP has abandoned confrontation with the Marxists groups. The BM remains a movement of militant street action.
 4. The BNP has been described as "the most pro-Zionist party in Britain" by the Board of Deputies of British Jews. There are Zionists and Jewish members within the BNP, Nick Griffin has stated in an interview with an Israeli newspaper that he would welcome Jewish immigrants to Britain and recognises the State of Israel. The BM resolutely opposes Zionism, which is an evil force bent on world domination. BM opposes both Zionist imperialism and Islamic terrorism in defence of Western Civilisation.
 5. The BNP tolerates homosexuality and has homosexual members. The BM is opposed to this unnatural persuasion and will seek to re-criminalise sodomy. British Movement stands for the traditional family unit and children raised by men and women.

Dear Broadsword,

Comment on 'uniting' so called 'Right-wing' parties.

It will never happen. When I was in BM in the 1970's, the ordinary members held joint activities with NF and other groups, but the leaders of those groups did not like this for fear of losing members to BM.

I also went on the NF Remembrance Day march, but we (BM) were asked to leave by NF marshalls.

In the present situation I am not a member of any group, but I feel sure that most members of other groups support the ideals of BM. In time they will leave the vote chasing groups and realise that British Movement is the correct way to use their energy for the future.

Dear Comrade N.S. Greetings,

I hope this missive finds you in the best of health and highest of spirits. I've written a biography on Colin Jordan which will be a feature in the premier issue of "Battle Call". Colin Jordan should be honored for his key figure through his political career and activities in our National Socialist struggle. A cause to which he had devoted his life: That of a White future for British children and a worldwide National Socialist New Order.

I look forward to hearing from you again soon. I raise my arm in the eternal salute of the ancient Roman legions, and repeat the holy words, "Heil Hitler!"

Broadsword will print your letter in full in the next issue and will answer your all your points and comments.

You raise some interesting matters and we will do our best to explain the British Movement position on all the points you raised.

Young, White and Angry

Some of Broadsword's readers will no doubt have watched the 'First Cut' TV documentary, "Young, Angry and White" in February 2010. A typically soft-Left/Liberal production which allegedly tried to explain why a White, British teenager should be drawn into joining a 'Far-Right' political organisation, in this case the BNP. The usual tired leftist excuses were trotted out and the film makers tried to discredit the young man in question by blaming his upbringing, "no positive male role model" and similar pscho-babble.

The one positive note for Broadsword was the paused camera shot which focussed on the framed BM poster on his windowsill.

ARYAN DESTINY

If you could visit Asgard in the twinkling of an eye
And then continue onward, with that same speed to fly,

Do you think that you could ever, through all eternity, Find out the generation where Gods began to be ?

Or see the grand beginning when space did not extend?

Or view the last creation where Gods and matter end ?

As each of us commits to: our struggle and our toil, Our people learn to nurture and value blood and soil.

Improvement and expansion are one eternal round,

As we fulfill our destiny to dwell on sacred ground.

There is no end to matter;
There is no end to space;
There is no end to spirit;
There is no end to Race.

There is no end to virtue;
There is no end to might;
There is no end to wisdom;
There is no end to light.

There is no end to union;
There is no end to youth;
There is no end to honour;
There is no end to truth.

There is no end to glory;
There is no end to love;
There is no end to being;
There is no death above.
